California
5-50 Employees
Effective 3/1/2012

Just as your business is unique, your health plan should work to meet your unique needs.

UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice meets the unique needs of your business with:

- Plan choice flexibility
- Simplified administration
- Savings opportunities
- Wellness solutions
- A broad portfolio of specialty coverage
- Available to employer groups with five or more enrolling employees

A well-designed, flexible health plan, supported by streamlined administration and employee-focused wellness programs, can help you create a long-term strategy to manage health care costs now and in the future.

UnitedHealthcare Multi-ChoiceSM allows you to purchase one health plan package that includes multiple benefit design options, so you can offer your employees an array of health care coverage options to meet a variety of health care and financial needs. Our Multi-Choice packages include different mixes of plan design options, ranging from HMOs to Health Savings Accounts (HSAs) and Health Reimbursement Accounts (HRAs). Your employees can choose the benefit design option that best meets their individual needs, saving money on essential coverage or paying additional dollars for more comprehensive coverage. And you can keep or change your benefit design option offerings with your package year after year, ensuring that your health plan will evolve with the changing needs of your business and your employees.

You can choose from several different options

- ▶ UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue™ (HMO) or UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue™ Advantage (HMO): UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO) or UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage (a lower-cost HMO with a select network of health care providers), and UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus products, including our HSA and HRA.
- ▶ UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO) and UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage (HMO): Select UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue and UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage plans and UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus products, including our HSA and HRA.
- ▶ UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Flex (HMO): Four sets of UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Flex plans (with each set featuring three distinct networks) and UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus plans, including our HSA and HRA. UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue plans, available for employees outside the SignatureValue Flex network service area.
- ▶ UnitedHealthcare PremierSourceSM: A suite of some of our premier plan designs, including traditional PPOs, HSA plans, and traditional HMO plans. You can also choose a staff model HMO through PremierSource.
- ▶ UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO) featuring HealthCare Partners: UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue featuring HealthCare Partners Network plans (offering access to the select HealthCare Partners network in Southern California) and UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus Balanced Value and HSA. UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue or UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage plans available for employees outside the HealthCare Partners Network service area.

All of these packages give you the option to choose an HMO plan. Our UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO) plans provide the most comprehensive coverage of all our plans and offer many advantages to your employees. UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue members simply choose one Primary Care Physician (PCP) from our network to coordinate all their medical care. They can then visit their PCP for preventive care services, which include routine checkups, and when they need to see a specialist, their PCP can provide a referral. Members are charged only a copayment for most outpatient health care services at each doctor's visit. And there's no annual deductible with most HMO plans.

UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice brought to life

Scenario 1: An employer moving from a single benefit design option to UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO)

With world attention focused on both the environment and the economy, Environmental Defenders is where policymakers and business leaders turn for win-win solutions. This green group of 20 environmental consultants and their support staff has tripled in size over the past decade. Alison, one of the founding members of the group, is assigned to find a health insurance package that can attract and retain the best and brightest employees.

The current employee makeup of this group is as follows:

- Seven young, single professionals who rarely go to the doctor
- Five young, married parents who regularly use their health care benefits for their growing families
- Three middle-aged professionals who see the doctor mainly for preventive care
- Five administrative staff members who find the premiums unaffordable

The company's current plan is as follows:

Individual Premium (PMPM)	Employer Contribution $$ and (%)	Employee Contribution $$ and (%)	Deductible	Coinsurance	Copayment
$275	$193 (70%)	$82 (30%)	$1,000	80%	$30-$50

Alison's dilemma is that key employees have expressed the need for richer medical benefits. Others can't afford the $82 premium, let alone an increase. Alison knows she's jeopardizing employee satisfaction by not providing benefits that meet the individual needs of her employees.

Before UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO), her choices are:

- 1 Offer an additional plan from a different carrier. This requires additional paperwork and increases her administrative burden, assuming it is permitted by the current coverage.
- 2 Find a carrier that offers a dual option, providing two different health plans from the same carrier, which would still not meet her employees' diverse needs.

With UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue (HMO), Alison decides to offer her employees the choice of three benefit design options. The UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue plans offer access to a robust HMO network of physicians and hospitals. Those who enroll in these HMO plans can choose one Primary Care Physician to coordinate all their care, and they pay only a copayment at each doctor's office visit. Plus, preventive care is covered. With the UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus plans, enrollees have the flexibility to see any doctor – including specialists – without a referral.

Plan Design	Individual Premium (PMPM)	Employer Contribution $$ and (%)	Employee Contribution $$ and (%)	Deductible	Coinsurance	Copayment
UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus Balanced 30/3000/70%	$271	$190 (70%)	$81 (30%)	$3,000	70%	$30-$50
UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus Balanced 30/1000/80%	$333	$233 (70%)	$100 (30%)	$1,000	80%	$30-$50
UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue 15-30/300a	$280	$196 (70%)	$84 (30%)	n/a	$300 per admit	$15-$30

With this array of plans, Alison's employees can choose the coverage level that best meets their individual needs. In the end, she reduces her total health care coverage costs while increasing her employees' choice and satisfaction.

Scenario 2: An employer with dual option moving to UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage (HMO)

Boyd Construction, a commercial contracting company that handles both new construction and renovation, has seen moderate annual growth, but is dealing with a tightening economy. Tony, the owner, needs to ensure that administrative costs are reliably predictable and the time spent managing the company's benefits is minimal, so he can focus on running his business.

The current employee makeup of Tony's company is as follows:

- ▶ 36 laborers
- ▶ Five supervisors
- ▶ Four office personnel

The company's current plans are as follows:

Individual Premium (PMPM)	Employer Contribution $$	Employee Contribution $$	Deductible	Coinsurance	Copayment
$275	$200	$75	$1,000	80%	$30-$50
$351	$200	$151	$500	80%	$30-$50

Tony's dilemma is that he can't afford the 14 percent renewal increase he is facing with his current dual option plans. He also wants to be able to better predict annual health insurance costs, without increasing his administrative burden or sacrificing the benefits available to his employees.

Before UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage (HMO), his choices are:

- 1 Shop for an additional plan from a different carrier. This requires additional paperwork and increases his administrative burden, assuming it is permitted by the current coverage.
- 2 Buy down to a whole new set of options at a lower premium within a larger product portfolio, which would still not meet his employees' needs or lower his administrative burden.

With UnitedHealthcare Multi-Choice with UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage (HMO), Tony decides to offer his employees five different benefit design options, which include the annual rate increase.

Plan Design	Individual Premium (PMPM)	Employer Contribution $$	Employee Contribution $$	Deductible	Coinsurance	Copayment
UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus Traditional with Deductible 30/500/80%	$383	$200	$183	$500	80%	$30-$50
UnitedHealthcare SignatureValue Advantage 15-30/300a	$244	$200	$44	n/a	$300 per admit	$15-$30
UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus Balanced Value 40/1000/70%	$263	$200	$63	$1,000	70%	$40-$60
UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus HRA 3000/70%	$269	$200	$69	$3,000	70%	70%
UnitedHealthcare Choice Plus HSA 3000/80%	$227	$200	$27	$3,000	80%	80%

With this array of plans, his employees can choose the coverage level that best meets their individual needs. Since Tony has fixed his contribution at 100 percent of the lowest priced benefit design option, he’s able to predict his monthly costs, while still allowing his employees to buy up for additional coverage. He also has the option to choose from additional benefit designs during renewal, allowing him the flexibility to adjust his health insurance offering based on his budget and the needs of his employees. And, he can do all this without the hassle of having to shop multiple insurance carriers every year.

- 11 percent lower cost for chronic population than PPO
- 12 percent reduction in cost per member each year
- 40 percent reduction in surgery costs
- Overall lower medical costs
- Use of preventive care grew faster

In offering your employees their choice of plans, you can also empower them to make informed decisions about their health care. We offer a variety of tools and resources meant to work with their plan choices to help them navigate the health care system.

Making informed treatment decisions

UnitedHealthcare’s Treatment Decision Support program provides your employees with information about their medical conditions, treatment options, and clinical and cost ramifications of treatment choices. This gives them the tools to avoid unnecessary treatments and access to appropriate, cost-effective care. And, these resources can lead to better health outcomes and lower health care costs for you and your employees.

For PPO, HSA, and HRA plan members, additional tools are available through myuhc.com[®]:

Hospital Comparison Program: provides cost and quality information to help your employees evaluate hospital performance along with costs for services

Treatment Cost Estimator: calculates approximate costs of specific health care services in your employees’ geographic area

For HMO plan members, additional tools are available on uhcwest.com:

Health Assessment: an online questionnaire that reveals current health status, identifies potential health risks and recommends relevant wellness programs.

Personal Health Record: keeps track of medical history, claims and other health information online, in one convenient place.

Helping your employees make the most of their benefits

We understand that simply offering flexible benefit designs is only half the solution in positively impacting the health care system and your bottom line.

Our programs and services support your efforts to keep employees healthy. Healthier employees tend to be more productive and spend fewer health care dollars. They can begin to make appropriate health care decisions and lifestyle modifications that may lower overall health care costs.
